July 2023

This month, we highlight alumnus Cheyanne Lowery featured in Disney's "Saturdays." Lowery's story is an inspiration to those who work hard and follow their dreams.

Be sure to read the "Faces and Places" section to learn more about the Waubonsee Community College Foundation and its newest member Wamecca Rodriguez.

Check out the "Just For Fun" section to read about the women's and men's soccer alumni games to be held in August. Plus save the date for the Waubonsee Community College Foundation Annual Golf Outing this fall!

Where Are They Now?

Waubonsee Alumnus Featured in Disney's "Saturdays"

Waubonsee alumnus Cheyanne Lowery, of Newark, has been gifted with a natural talent of artistic roller-skating since the age of eight. Her unwavering commitment to the sport has now paid off in an extraordinary way.

After graduating from Waubonsee last year, Lowery was invited to audition for a role in Disney's "Saturdays." The show follows the journey of teenage girls as they strive to improve their skating skills at a local rink in Chicago. Since its premiere in March 2023, the show has gained an impressive viewership of over 85,000.

"Sunburst"

According to President Emeritus Dr. John Swalec's book Waubonsee Community College: A History Vol II 1973-2007, "The largest sculpture -- titled "Sunburst" -- designed by instructor Stuart Swell was installed on the site of the original temporary campus at Waubonsee. It is a symbol of the explosion of knowledge and the educational mission of the college."

The sculpture "Sunburst" was dedicated in July 1990. It is located at the south entrance of the Sugar Grove Campus.
